New Year's at the Arts Center

photos by Jeremy Kuhn

Crooked Tree Arts Center in Petoskey offered a variety of activities and entertainment options for families to help celebrate the new year, including workshops and musical performances.

Crowds gathered to watch the ball drop.
