

Too Much by Alex Haase

Backstage-the audience talks. Too loudly
My heart-thump thump thump thump. Too fast
Curtains open slowly, too slow

Act one

Still backstage

Audience claps- Too loudly

Time goes by- too fast

I'm on

I walk-too fast

I sing- too quietly

Thank goodness for microphones!

They help-too much

Everything is too much

Way too much

Finale

A chance to be perfect for myself

I walk on-just on time

I sing- just the right tone, the right sound, the right volume.

The audience claps-just the right sound

I did it

I was perfect for myself

It was too much

But now....

It's never too much-

Not for me
